

Relaunch of the COTRI Weekly.

Hamburg, 08.08.2017. The COTRI Weekly is being relaunched with upgraded content and a new look.

Not only has the process of selection of online news items related to the field of Chinese outbound tourism been improved, there will also be a number of articles exclusive to the COTRI Weekly. Furthermore, industry partners will be frequently invited to provide short op-eds and article material related to topics relevant to the current discussions among Chinese outbound tourism experts.

The COTRI Weekly is, and will remain forever free of charge and free of advertisements, providing subscribers every Tuesday with important, new, original and sometimes curious facts, figures and opinions for a successful engagement with the biggest international tourism source market – China!

In order to directly receive the new improved COTRI Weekly in your inbox every Tuesday, please find the subscription box in the most recent issue.