Four charts show how much China's economy has changed in 30 years

By Ted Kemp and Kelly Olsen, 4 June 2019, Updated: 5 June 2019

Quote:

“Wolfgang Georg Arlt, COTRI's director, said no reliable numbers are available for the years 1989 and 1990.

"But as China was shunned by the global community after Tiananmen in June 1989 — and, anyway, China had almost no hard currency reserves — the number of departures was clearly below two million, maybe even below one million," he told CNBC in an email.”

Link to the article:
https://www.cnbc.com/2019/06/05/china-economic-growth-trade-tourism-and-urbanization-have-leaped.html